

IN THE BANK

Orange is a spot wine lovers should include on their list of worthwhile regions to visit, and even more so now that Belgravia at Union Bank Cellar Door and Wine Bar has opened. The wine bar offers a good list of mostly local wines compiled by Gourmet Traveller WINE contributor and Orange resident Peter Bourne. The drops have been chosen to match dishes on a tapas menu devised and overseen by Simonn Hawke from adjoining top-notch restaurant, Lolli Redini. The cellar door is the outlet for Belgravia, whose vineyards are a little way out of town, and offers daily tastings of its wines. Wine workshops, wine appreciation courses and other tastings are held regularly. Belgravia at Union Bank, Orange, NSW, (02) 6361 4441. www.unionbank.com.au.
